RELATIONSHIPS WITH

FAMILY

- Rethink activities or plans - even good ones - that take your family away from regular worship. Seek God first and the best relationships follow.
- Start a small group with one, two, or three other families that might include a short Bible study and discussion along with food and fun.
- Volunteer as a family to be a worship team, such as ushering together once a month or working in the nursery.
- Consider starting a family ministry that is something new at Trinity and could be introduced and nurtured by you.
- Read one book of the Bible together and really dig into what is happening in it, what questions does it bring up, and what is God saying that applies to your life?
